

Lecture of Sport Injury -conducted by our alumni

A guest lecture organized by P.E. Department was conducted on Apr 22 from 3:45pm to 5:45pm in Lecture Theatre. Dr. Daniel T.P. FONG, the Research Assistant Professor from the Department of Orthopaedics and Traumatology, Prince of Wales Hospital, Faculty of Medicine, CUHK and Mr. Justin Lee Wai Yuk were invited to give the lecture for our NSS-PE elective students. We were so glad to have our alumni to come back school to share their valuable working experiences and updated knowledge in the field of sport injury. Dr. Fong is now studying the smart sport shoes with sensors which can help prevent the common injury - ankle sprain. We are looking forward to seeing his new invention.
